

A18011 — ELDA Lead Teams

Course Data Sheet — Revised Entries for AL 3.0

NZ Army Leadership Centre | Army Command School

Reference SOLO Course Data Sheet A18011, AL 3.0

Date September 2026

Version Revised draft v0.1

Course Information

Field	Revised Entry
Course ID	A18011
Course Name	ELDA Lead Teams
Service	Army
Primary Learning Provider	New Zealand Army Leadership Centre (NZALC)
Course Duration	6 Training Days
Course Delivery Method	Face-to-Face
Course Aim	The aim of ELDA Lead Teams is to develop individual leadership effectiveness through experiential small-team leadership under pressure, enabling learners to better understand, regulate and deliberately develop their leadership performance.
Qualifications / Certifications	N/A
Target Learners	Regular Force personnel selected to undertake the A1530 Promotion All Corps RF JNCO Course.
Learner Competency	Learners will be able to apply effective self-management and leadership behaviours under pressure, and evaluate their performance to support continued leadership development.
Next Step	1. Apply the leadership and self-management strategies developed on ELDA Lead Teams throughout the remainder of the A1530 JNCO Course and in the workplace. 2. Continue deliberate reflection, self-evaluation and development of individual leadership effectiveness.

Course Entry Requirements

All of the following:

Retain the existing formal A1530 entry requirements and prerequisite codes currently recorded in SOLO, subject to administrative verification.

Manual Checks — Learning Provider Checks

Learners must be medically fit to participate in prolonged field-based physical activity while carrying FSMO.

The course may involve periods of continuous physical activity of approximately 12–18 hours per day over four consecutive days without return to hard standing.

Review note: This requirement should be checked against the current NZALC Safety Management Plan, activity SOPs and applicable NZDF medical policy before publication.

Field	Entry
Entry Testing	N/A
Course Capacity	Minimum: 8 / Maximum: 32
MAP Suitability	N/A
MAP ADFELPS Minimum Rating	N/A
NZDF Civilian Suitability	N/A
International (non-MAP) Suitability	N/A
Non-NZDF Personnel Suitability	N/A

Governance and Delivery

Field	Revised Entry
Governance Body	Army Training Review Board (ATRB)
Trade Sponsor / Authority	Army Command School (ACS)
Learning Provider	New Zealand Army Leadership Centre (NZALC)
Course Controller	Chief Instructor, New Zealand Army Leadership Centre

Staff Organisation

1. Course Manager. 1 × NZALC Instructor.
2. Instructional Staff. Up to 5 × NZALC Instructors, appropriately qualified in accordance with the NZALC Activity SOP Part 3 Sect 3 (Wilderness), reflecting applicable industry standards for outdoor instruction and subject to external audit.
3. Instructor Ratio. A minimum instructor-to-learner ratio of 1:8 is to be maintained for field-based activities.

Review note: Confirm the exact qualification/SOP reference remains current before publication.

Nominations and Enrolments

Nominations and Enrolments Process

Nominate for this course through the Learning Catalogue or Course Plan.

Priority Learners

Learners accepted onto the A1530 Promotion All Corps RF JNCO Course.

Included Courses

Retain current SOLO administrative configuration as applicable.

Notes

1. ELDA Lead Teams is an included course within the A1530 Promotion All Corps RF JNCO Course.
2. ELDA Lead Teams is to be completed during the initial phase of the A1530 JNCO Course.
3. ELDA Lead Teams is to be delivered prior to D03020 LDS Lead Teams, where that sequencing requirement remains current.
4. Due to the nature of ELDA activities and their inherent level of risk, the SI ELDA Wing is the authority for assigning appropriately qualified instructors. This forms part of the NZALC Safety Management Plan.
5. The Learning Provider is the New Zealand Army Leadership Centre (NZALC).
6. Learning and individual development identified during ELDA Lead Teams should be carried forward through subsequent A1530 learning activities to support continued reflection and deliberate leadership development.

Review note: Note 2 uses "initial phase" rather than "first week". The course is six training days, so "first week" created an unnecessary internal inconsistency.

Course Structure

COG 1 — Experiential Leadership Development

LO 1.1 — Apply strategies to maintain effective performance under pressure

Learners apply appropriate self-management strategies to maintain effective individual performance when exposed to physical, cognitive and interpersonal pressure.

This encompasses the practical application of relevant performance-under-pressure tools and techniques rather than simply knowledge of those techniques.

LO 1.2 — Apply effective leadership behaviours within a small team under challenging conditions

Learners apply appropriate leadership behaviours while leading and contributing to a small team operating under physically, cognitively and interpersonally challenging conditions.

The experiential activity provides repeated opportunities for learners to lead, follow, influence others, make decisions and adapt their leadership behaviour under pressure.

LO 1.3 — Evaluate personal leadership performance and develop an individual leadership development plan

Learners critically reflect on their performance and leadership behaviours demonstrated throughout ELDA Lead Teams, identify strengths and areas for development, and develop an individual leadership development plan to support continued development throughout the A1530 JNCO Course and beyond.

The three LO titles are assessable as written. Enabling objectives, learning content, activities and the evidence required against each LO are defined in the syllabus, not in this data sheet.

Annex — Learning Architecture

The data sheet now has a single line of intent running from the course aim, through the three learning outcomes, to the next step.

ELDA Lead Teams creates an intense experiential baseline and an initial development plan. The Leadership Journal then provides the mechanism for learners to keep testing and reflecting on that leadership throughout the broader A1530 JNCO Course.