

CREST — SWORD AND TAIAHA

Centre symbol drawn from the crossed sword and taiaha of the Badge of the New Zealand Army. Exploration only; no mark is endorsed.

7G NGĀTI TŪMATAUENGA ARMS

The sword and taiaha carried together — the two traditions of the profession of arms in Aotearoa, crossed at the point of focus. Crown, lion, cypher and scroll deliberately omitted: this is a training-culture mark, not a replacement badge.

centre symbol alone

single ink — embroidery

size ladder

- Weapons are simplified redrawings of the sword and taiaha from the Badge of the New Zealand Army — not traced artwork.
- Use of elements derived from the Army badge requires Defence heraldry approval.
- Use of the taiaha and any Māori design element requires appropriate cultural consultation (Ngāti Tūmatauenga kaitiaki).
- Tagline wording (“Act Decisive” vs “Act decisively”) remains to be confirmed.