

ARMY TRAINING GROUP

01 PURPOSE

1

2

02 DELIVERY AND EFFECT

3

4

03 PARTICIPANT FEEDBACK

ARMY TRAINING GROUP

Army Command School · NZ Army Leadership Centre

ELDA Lead Systems NCO Course · 7 – 14 Aug 26

01 PURPOSE

To enhance leadership and warrior ethos through the conduct of a challenging multisport activity, supported by leadership tools, psychometrics, reflection and behaviour selection.

02 DELIVERY AND EFFECT

- 27 NZ Army and Australian Defence Force personnel completed ELDA Lead Systems together, strengthening joint leadership development ties.
- The three-day rogaine, culminating in a whitewater rafting descent, forced planning and execution against incomplete information: direct evidence of resilience, judgement and teamwork under pressure.
- Leadership diagnostics, structured debriefs and individual Leadership Development Plans converted reflection into readiness, building the combat mindset required at lead systems level.

03 PARTICIPANT FEEDBACK

"An excellent course that required a high level of personal drive and commitment, whilst also reinforcing the importance of working as a team towards a common goal." Student evaluation

1 Whitewater descent, day three · 2 Lake leg of the rogaine · 3 Night navigation planning · 4 Course group with ADF personnel

ARMY TRAINING GROUP

Army Command School · NZ Army Leadership Centre

ELDA Lead Leaders, SNCO Promotion Course · Christchurch and Wanaka

01 PURPOSE

To enhance leadership and maintain warrior ethos in order to provide world-class, operationally focused leaders, through a challenging rock-climbing activity supported by leadership tools, a Hogan psychometric report, reflection and behaviour selection.

02 DELIVERY AND EFFECT

- 30 students completed the ELDA phase of Lead Leaders: 21 from the SNCO Promotion Course and seven junior officers, in syndicates of up to eight across Christchurch and Wanaka.
- Facilitation content combined with rock climbing enabled behaviour-based peer feedback: an accurate snapshot of each student's current behaviour and its impact on others.
- Peer-endorsed strategies gave every student a practical plan to lift intrapersonal and interpersonal effectiveness under the Domain Model.

03 PARTICIPANT FEEDBACK

Student evaluations indicate the course was well conducted, with students extremely pleased with the facilitation content and its delivery by instructors. Student evaluation summary

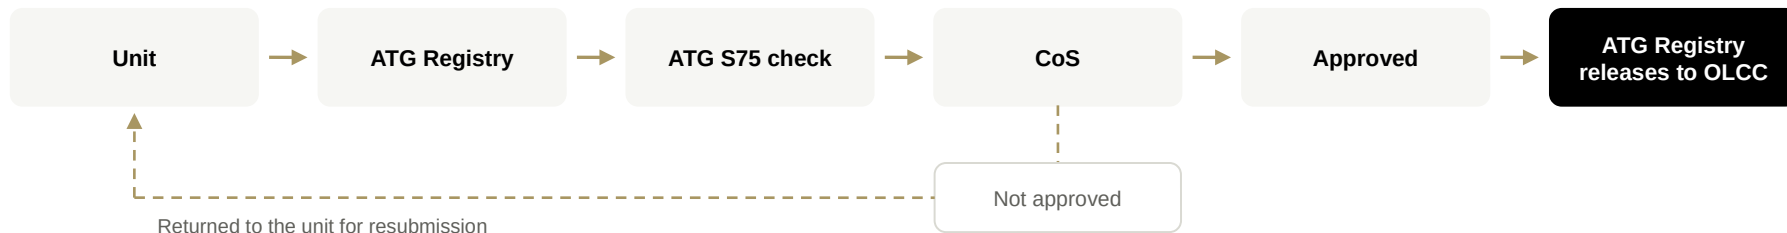

1 Lead climb on the main face · 2 Top-rope pitch, Wanaka · 3 Syndicate on the summit block · 4 Abseil descent

ATG Storyboard

How to complete and submit the board · template in use from 15 Oct 25

01 SUBMISSION

The board moves from the unit to ATG Registry, is checked, and is released once approved.

02 COMPLETING THE BOARD

Fill each field on the template slide; the frame itself is locked in the layout.

Header

Unit and sub-unit, activity name and dates. Insert your unit badge from the set at right.

Text

Purpose, then delivery and effect in three or four points, then a line of participant feedback. Each field shrinks to fit.

Photos

Four landscape photos, numbered 1 to 4. Click a frame to insert; PowerPoint crops to fit.

Captions

One line beneath the photos, numbered to match. Name the activity, place and date where useful.

03 UNIT BADGES

Copy your unit's badge into the header.

