REPORT

COGCON's completed feasibility trials enter Phase 1 as mapped evidence. Report back November 2026: Framework v1.0, capability and product map, implementation plan.

THE OUTCOME

A coherent, joined-up and assured Army approach that deliberately develops individuals, teams and leaders who remain effective under pressure and are prepared to act decisively, persistently, adaptively and ethically in combat.

CAPABILITY PILLARS — WHAT WE BUILD

Leadership

Mental skills

Performance cognition

Resilience & recovery

Physical performance

Professional identity & values

Individual & collective exposure to pressure

TRAINING PRODUCTS AND METHODS — HOW WE BUILD IT

each product contributes across multiple pillars — columns do not pair one-to-one

NZALC Performance Under Pressure package

NZDF Psychology products

COGCON MVP

Developmental product — performance-cognition pillar

Scenario & experiential training

Physical conditioning

Structured reflection & recovery

Other products identified in Phase 1 mapping

COGCON MVP is nested within the performance-cognition pillar (dashed link). It develops selected elements of Performance Under Pressure — not a complete Combat Mindset programme or a validated operational-readiness measure.
